

This map illustrates the Cache Slough Complex, a wetland area in Yolo County, California. The complex is outlined in red and includes two distinct regions: Little Egbert, shown in green, and Lockout Slough, shown in orange. The map is bounded by Dixon to the north and Rio Vista to the south. Major transportation routes include Interstate 80 running diagonally from the top left, and State Routes 113 and 84 running north-south. A network of local roads, including N Meridian Rd, Lewis Rd, Hawkins Rd, Midway Rd, Binghamton Rd, Swan Rd, Rio Vista Rd, and Shiloh Rd, is also depicted. The map shows various sloughs and water bodies, such as Nurse Slough, Lindey Slough, Cache Slough, and the Sacramento River Deep Water Ship Channel. Key locations like Hastings Island and Prospector Island are labeled. A legend in the bottom left corner identifies the colored areas: green for Little Egbert, orange for Lockout Slough, and red for the Cache Slough Complex. A north arrow is located in the bottom right corner.
